

CAPIS Launches Nexus – a Best of Breed Algorithm Solution

Dallas, TX - April 12, 2010 – Capital Institutional Services, Inc. (CAPIS), an industry leading agency brokerage and independent research provider announced today the launch of Nexus, CAPIS's best of breed algorithm offering. Comprised of five CAPIS agency algorithms and 15 popular bulge bracket tactics, Nexus is available on widely-used trading platforms including Fidessa Workstation, ITG's Triton®, the Charles River Investment Management System, and Bloomberg.

"We are very excited to offer Nexus as part of our expanding line of trading solutions for the institutional community," said Kristi P. Wetherington, President and CEO. "With Nexus, traders have the unique flexibility to trade with industry leading algorithms while utilizing CAPIS's commission management offerings, independent research solutions, and unparalleled client service. Through Nexus, clients can maintain their anonymity in the marketplace while satisfying research and directed commission obligations."

With the vast array of algorithm choices available in the marketplace, Nexus seeks to simplify the algorithm overload that many investment managers face today by offering the most popular algorithms from the industry's most respected bulge bracket providers in addition to pure agency tactics.
